ITALIANS STILL FORGE AHEAD

Triest Said to be Cut off From Rest of Austrian Empire

SUCCESS ON 3 FRONTS

Invaders Batter Forts Near Gorz—Platoon of 100 Men Capture Stronghold by Strategy.

Rome, June 14.—Italian artillery yesterday bombarded the fortifications of Santa Maria, San Pietro, San Marco, San Lucia and the other positions defending Gorz, the capital of the crown land of Gorz and Gradisca 22 miles northwest of Triest and 10 miles east of the Italian frontier. The railway lines running north and south of the city have been interrupted and the only communication remaining between Gorz and the rest of the Austrian Empire is by a long and difficult mountain road along the Chiapovano valley.

Documents found on Austrian officers taken prisoners indicate that it was the plan of the Austrian General Staff to prevent the Italians crossing the Isonzo River between Tolmino and Gorz. The capture of Plava by Italian troops, however, upset the Austrian plans for maintaining an insurmountable barrier in that part of the front through the co-operation of the towns of Tolmino and Gradisca.

"In the Trentino zone our forces went resolutely forward, correcting at least in part strategical inconveniences of unfavorable frontier such as were imposed upon us after the campaign of of 1866.

"Our brave mounted troops have occupied defiles and summits, the names of which recall unforgettable exploits by the brave combatants in Trentino half a century ago. A powerful artillery crowns the summits and pleateaus from where operations more vast can be carried out later. It is battering effectively forts of the enemy considered up to the present time almost impregnable, and already has demolished some of them.

"In the upper Cadore, recollections of Fortpnato Calvi are evoked by the occupation of Costina and other important points. Thus not only are closed all routes for invasion by the enemy, but gradually there is being opened the way of an offensive action as soon as this is regarded opportune."

A DARING HIGH DIVE.

New York, June 14.—Several thousand people crossing the Brooklyn Bridge by foot, train and trolley were electrified yesterday afternoon to see a dapper young man of rather boyish appearance climb to the parapet about midway between the Manhattan and Brooklyn towers of the structure, flip away a cigarette he was smoking, methodically discard his hat, coat, collar and tie, and take a header into the traffic-crowded waters, more than 100 feet below.

Two minutes after hitting the waves with his hands the diver reappeared on the surface, tore off his trousers and shoes, treaded water until he got his bearings, and then struck oute for the Manhattan shore, where he was placed under arrest, charged with attempting suicide. The prisoner gave his name as Daniel Garone.

"I did it to settle a dispute in my club," he explained. "There are a lot of men who maintained that such a leap could not be gotten away with. I agreed to show them. You can call it attempted suicide if you want to. It was great fun to me."

Messrs. Lee Fannon and Frank G. Martin, Jr., made a delightful automobile trip to Fredericksburg yesterday.

CORPORATION COURT.

The Corporation Court, Judge L. C. Barley, presiding, opened for the June term this morning with a grand jury summoned to consider six criminal indictments presented by Commonwealth Attorney Samuel G. Brent. David G. Grillbortzer was named as foreman of the following grand jury: Leopold Ruben, James F. Peyton, Joseph C. Gates, E. Steuart Smith, Alexander Suter, Richard E. Acton, M. L. Risheill, Clinton S. Ballenger and James M. Duncan.

Com. vs. Jos.. Henderson, murder.

Com. vs. Wm. Quill, malicious and felonious cutting.

Com. vs. Wm. Jeffries, breaking and entering a storehouse in the night.

All but Henderson and Quill plead not guilty. The other were given one year in the penitentiary except Dunbar, who was sent to the reform school.

The grand jury made the following recommendations:

We recommend that the State Health Laws, especially as they relate to food stuffs exposed for sale, be strictly enforced.

From the evidence before this jury it would appear that numbers of negroes, both male and female, come to this city, apparently for immoral purposes. We would recommend that some action be taken to rid the city of such characters by a strict enforcement of the vagrancy laws, and such other methods as the authorities may find effective.

ANOTHER MANIFESTO

W. J. Bryan Expresses Satisfaction With Relations Between the United States and Germany

Washington, June 14— Ex- Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan has issued another statement yesterday afternoon:

"I am glad to note the change in the tone of the press in regard to the note to Germany. From the time the papers began to publish forecasts the jingo editors have been predicting that the matter would be dealt with 'great firmness'; that Germany would be told that there must be no more delay in the acceptance of this country's demands, etc.

"Instead of waiting until the note was issued they took their own conception in advance and colored it to suit their own purposes.

"It is a relief to find the papers are emphasizing the friendly tone of the note and pointing out that it does not necessarily mean war. Something has been gained if the warrior journalist at last realies that the country does not want war, but that on the contrary it will support the President in his efforts to find a peaceful solution of the difficult problem raised by the use of the submarine against merchantmen."

The Wilard W. C. T. U. will meet tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock in Trinity M. E Church South.

FRENCH BREAK LINES

Czar's Troops Said to be Making Success in Galicia—Germans Report Capture of Towns.

Petrograd, June 14—In a battle on the Dniester River in the region of Zurawna, Galicia, which lasted from June 8 to June 10, the Russians captured 348 officers and 15,431 soldiers with 78 machine guns and 17 cannon according to a Russian official statement issued under date of June 12. On June 11, the statement adds, the Austro German forces crossed the Dniester at several points. The text of the communication says:

"To the north of Shavli, in the district of Szakimovo, we yesterday attacked and repulsed in a western direction the enemy outflanking column Near Shavli the enemy continues his fruitless attacks in the sector of the northern battlefield.

"Our offensive on the front of Szalliany-Beisagola continued to develop with success. On Saturday we carried by storm several villages and a cemetery near Bourgade-Jouquiny. The day before, on this front our Cossacks charged the enemy on horseback and sabered 100 Germans and took more than 50 prisoners.

"In the direction of Kovno the enemy is endeavoring to secure the front of Sapeziska-Hudele. On Thursday night, in this district, we pushed back the enemy for some distance on the Mariampol road and along the railway from Kovno to Wirballen (Russian Poland).

"On the right bank of the Vistula in the region of Sarczeby the enemy opened an intense artillery fire at dawn yesterday as a preliminary to a series of attacks. Up to midday the enemy did not succeed in approaching nearer than 400 paces from our trenches. Our air squadrons made reconnaissances and dropped bombs with success, thus contributing materially to repulse the enemy's attacks o nthis front.

"In Galicia: On Saturday in the valley of the River Sklo and enemy motor battery advanced toward our tranches, but was forced to beat an immediate retreat by our artillery fire4.

"In a three days' battle on the Dniester River, in the region of Zurawna. which lasted from June 8 to June 10 we captured altogether 348 officers and 15,431 soldiers with 78 machine guns and 17 cannon. A large quantity of arms, ammunition wagons field kitchens and transports also fell into our hands."

DIED—At St. Vincent Hospital, Norfolk, Va., on Saturday, at 11:50 p. m., after a short illness, FRANK H. NORCOME. Funeral from the residence of his mother-in-law, Mrs. G. W. Welker, 111 north Royal street, at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

TAX BOOKS NOT CLOSED.

Further Time is Given People to People to Make Returns to Commissioner of Revenue.

Early last week it was announced that Charles H. Callahan, commissioner of Revenue, would continue to receive tax returns up until June 20th, when they would be returned over to W. N. Lipscomb, examiner of records of this district. On Friday it was published that the tax books were closed. This information was in error as the difference between the list and the books was not clearly understood.

The following letter from Mr. Callahan is self-explanatory.

Editor Alexandria Gazette: I read with surprise in Friday's Gazette that "the Tax Books of the State of Virginia, so far as Alexandria is concerned, were closed last night by Charles H. Callahan, Commissioner of the Revenue." This statement, while harmless in a way, is misleading and may prevent delayed returns from coming in unless refuted and the nature of this report to the Examiner of Records explained. As a matter of fact the Tax Books have not been compiled nor have the blank Personal Property books been received from the Auditor of Public Accounts, who supplies them to Commissioners. Under the new tax law or segregation act, the commissioners are required to assess personal property and incomes on sheets especially prepared for that purpose. These lists (not the Tax Books), under the law, are to be delivered to the Examiner of Records for inspection by that officer and the Local Board of Review not later than the last day of June, 1915, and the 1st day of April thereafter. Owing to delays in receiving the blank forms and the consequent delays in getting them in the hands of the tax payers, the time was extended and June 10th fixed as the date upon which the Commissioner should make his returns of "lists" to the examiner.

It is also pertinent to say at this time that Mr. Lipscomb has informed the Commissioner that he (Mr. Lipscomb) is not yet ready to receive his report nad the assessment will continue until the house to house canvas is completed which will take at least three weeks, nad those who have failed to make their returns, may continue to do so, notwithstanding that the time for closing the lists has expired.

CHAS. H. CALLAHAN,
Commissioner of the Revenue.

TAFT WOULD CURB PRESS

Albany, N. Y., June 14.—Provisions restricting "trial of cases by newspapers," providing for appointive judiciary, facilitating the impeachment of judges and eliminating grand juries and petit juries in civil cases, should be written into the State Constitution, former President Taft told the judiciary committee of the constitutional convention yesterday. He also advocated the retention of trial by jury with unanimous verdicts in criminal cases.

Another proposal made to the convention, but not by Mr. Taft, was compulsory military service. The term of service would be three years.

Buried Under Coal.

Cumberland, Md., June 14.—Edward Conroy, of Eckhart, was instantly killed, and George Brode and William Bolt, of Frostburg, were injured yesterday in Mine No. 3, of the Consolidation Coal Company, at Hoffman when a prop gave way, permitting the entire roof of the room in which the men were worink to fall. Conroy had a car in his room, and was endeavoring to push it farther up the track, and had braced himself against the prop to push it with his foot. The prop broke and the coal and rock fell, completly burying him. The other two escaped with slight injuries.

GERMAN REPLY TO BE FRIENDLY

Berlin Official Says Nation is Much Impressed by Note

DECIDED OPTIMISM

Berlin, June 14.—America has no need to be apprehensive over the German reply, a high official of the German foreign office said today.

"We are much impressed by the friendly tone of the second American note," said the official, whose name cannot at this time be disclosed. "We certainly shall do everything to reply in the same manner. There is no reason for apprehension. Undoubtedly there will be a solution which both countries can accept."

Everywhere in Berlin a decided feeling of optimsim prevails regarding the possibilities of a German-American agreement. High officials of the foreign office, editors of Berlin newspapers, and other prominent persons are equally optimistic over the negotiations.

"Of course this is a big question for America, but you must remember Germany is faced by other big issues," the foreign office official added.

"Do you refer to the Balkans?" he was asked. He answered in the affirmative.

Athens, June 14.—Incomplete returns today from the Greek elections indicate the return to power of former Premier Venizelos whose war program caused him to break with King Constantine and to resign.

All candidates of the Venizelos war party throughout the department of Atticia, including the city of Athens, were elected. Returns from remote districts and the Greek colonies will not be received for several days.

TWELVE KILLED BY STORM.

Many Houses Destroyed by Disturbance in Wisconsin.

La Crosse, Wis., June 14.—Twelve persons are reported dead in the storm which swept over western Wisconsin and parts of Minnesota and Iowa Saturday night. Seven lost their lives near Ferryville, Wis., and five near Lansing, Iowa. An 8-mile strip from a point 2 miles east of Ferryville to a point 10 miles east, near the village of Seneca, was swept clear, and every farmhouse was wrecked or damaged.

Besides the twelve killed, 30 were injured, several of whom are in hospitals in La Crosse in a serious condition.

The tornado swept over a portion of Crawford county, and wrought havoc with life and property. After several hours of heavy atmospheric disturbance a twister formed over the Mississippi 3 1-2 miles north of Ferryville, and followed the river for 8 miles, then turned and went directly east, the end of the tornado dipping here and there as it swept across the country about midway between Ferryville and Lynville, leveling buildings and trees wherever it touched.

Trees 2 feet in diameter were snapped off. All telephone and telegraph lines in that section are out of commission.

NOT ACCUSED OF CHEATING

WEIGHING EVIDENCE

Richmond, June 14—Evidence before the court of inquiry at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., is tending to exonerate Thomas W. Harrison, Jr., son of Judge Thomas W. Harrison of Winchester, one of seven midshipmen recommended for dismissal for alleged "cheating" in their examinations.

According to this information, Midshipman Harrison was never charged with "cheating" in examinations. As a matter of fact, it is asserted, there was nothing questionable about any of the examinations held in his section, but he was alleged to have had knowledge that other midshipmen had received advance copies of questions to be used in examinations. He did not report these facts to the authorities, and his failure to do so, it is asserted, is the basis for the accusation against him.

Bearing out the statements of Harrison's friends in Richmond is the statement by Midshipmen Broadfoot, president of the Virginian's class at Annapolis, who testified before the inquiry Saturday that he and his classmates considered that Harrison and L. P. Wessell, another midshipman recommended for dismissal were honest and that their honesty had never been questioned. Broadfoot indicated that these two midshipmen in particular had not been fairly treated at the previous inquiry.

Many friends of the Harrison family have offered their service to Judge Harrison in his efforts to vindicate his son's reputation. R. E. Byrd, a personal friend of the family who has returned to Richmond from Harrisonburg, where he attended Federal Court as district attorney for the Western District of Virginia last night expressed every confidence in young Harrison's integrity. He was unable to go to Annapolis because of his official duties, Mr. Byrd visited his family in Winchester.

Judge Thomas W. Harrison is one of the best known members of the Virginia judiciary and formerly represented his district in the State Senate. He is at Annapolis taking an active part in his son's defense before the court of inqury, which was ordered by Secretary of Navy Daniels, after the seven cadets had been recommended for dismissal.

COPIOUS RAINFALLS.

Heat Wave Followed by Thunder Storms Yesterday And Last Night.

The remarkably cool weather which had prevailedduring the early part of the present summer passed away toward the close of last week, and the temperature of Saturday became high and oppressive. The heat wave was felt yesterday, and the power of teh sun kept many persons within doors most of the day. In the afternoon heavy clouds formed in the western and nothern heavens and rain, thunder and lightning followed. There was, however, no severe storm, although the skies at first were ominous.

Between ten and eleven o'clock last night the clouds gathered again and an electric display continued until after midnight, during which time considerable rain fell. The temperature today has been more pleasant.

While no damage resulted from lightning nor wind whereabouts, the storm was severe in parts of Maryland and Pennsylvania, where the wind reached a high velocity and lightning struck in many places.

RELIC FIENDS AT WORK

The theft of two of Alexandria's most treasured possesions, the nameplate on Washington's pew in Christ Church and a leaf from the old Bible in the Masonic Temple, has aroused excitement in this city almost equal to that on the occasion when the silver nameplate on Washington's pew was stolen before. During the civil war the original nameplate which was engraved with a facsimile of the signature of the "father of his country" was removed from the church with other historicial treasures, and after a duplicate had been made and engraved with the signature and put into place the most vigilance was exercised by the caretakers, and up until yesterday no one had ever again attempted to repeat the occurrence.

The removal of both articles took place about three o'clock Saturday afternoon within a short time of each other. Thet wo robberies were discovered by Raymond Padgett, guide at Christ Church, and George Zachary, tiler of Alexandria-Washington Lodge and general caretaker of records and other possesions of the temple. Padgett had finished conducting a party of tourists through the church and had just come back to Washington's pew with another set of sightseers when he discovered the loss, the nameplate having to apperances been removed by an instrument made for the purpose. The robbery at the lodge took place just a few minutes before, and the general opinion is that here too the thief used the tourists as a shiel for his operations.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND.

The mystery surrounding the disappearance from her home last Tuesday night of Mrs. Julia G. Mrs. Walker was 37 years old. She had been in poor health, despondent and melancholy for some time.

RELATIONS WITH GERMANY.

It is now generally conceded that Germany is averse to breaking off relations with the United States and is ready to meet this country half way in order to bring about a proper understanding. The flow of conciliatory talk in Teutonic quarters in Washington is suggestive.

But Germany, like the United States, is facing two factions. There are jingoes in the Fatherland as there are rash people in our country. They know nothing of diplomacy and in their precipitancy close their ears to arguments. It is known that among officials in Germany the opinion is freedly expressed that the matters brought up by President Wilson's notes can be properly adjudicated if the heads of both nations are given a free hand. The danger, however, lies in the strength of the two parties which is unknown at present. The people of Germany are said to be hostile to the United States and are disposed to treat the representations of President Wilson with contempt. On the other hand, officials realize that this rash course is fraught with danger, and they see no reason why the Teutons should at this critical time add new enemies to their country unnecessarily. President Wilson will doubtless find it difficult to appease the outspoken and thoughtless class in America. In the meantime the press should careful to utter nothing which may in any way dampen the pacific spirit which seems to be animating Americans and Germans in bringing about a more friendly understanding between these two great nations. The same hint should be regarded by German newspapers.

THINKS WAR INEVITABLE.

Ever since the present war in Europe was precipitated England has been beckoning to the United States to "come on." It sems to be the conviction of representative Britons that it is the duty of America to enter this conflict.

Speaking at Brede, Sussex, yesterday, Morton Frewen, the economist, said that it was impossible to avoid the conviction that the United States will be drawn into the world-war. "Circumstances," he said, "will again be stronger than the determination of the pacifists. He further stated:

"America will have to come in. Her intervention will shorten the war by months, perhaps even by years. Napolon said that wars are won—one quarter by physical and three-quarters by mortal forces. Such an irresistible moral force will be the arrival of the United States. It will paralyze Germany. America is colossally rich and never was so rich as now. She can finance the munitions of all the greater states and will be a big brother to a little state when the terms of the great peace are under discussion.

The admonition of George Washington, we are happy to say, is still heeded by the major portion of Americans, and no matter how anxious England may be have the United States as one of its allies, this country will endeavor to preserve its neutrality.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER.

Today is the one hundred and thirty-eighth anniversary of the birth of the Stars and Stripes, and is known in the calendar as "Flag Day"

Flags have floated for a number of buildings in Alexandria today in honor of the aniversary of the birth of the American emblem. The Baltimore Sun in speaking of "Flag Day' says:

"New stars shine in the folds of glory of the American flag and one hundred millions salute it today where only three million did it reverence when it was first adopted as the symbol of American aspiration and hope; but it has lost none of the significance which it possessed for the generation over which it first waved. It signifies still that it signified 138 years ago, it carries still its message of freedom, justice and human rights. We have passed through many stormy years since it was chosen to express by its stars and its stripes the beauty and the majesty of the political gospel of humanity which we had proclaimed in 1776 but we have have reason today to be proud and thankful that in all that time it has lost nothing of the meaning which it had in the beginning. And now on its one hundred and thirty-eighth aniversary, when the world is convulsed by such a struggle as it has never known before, it repeats with more splendid and eloquent force than at any preceding period the great truths of which it was intended to be the outward and the perpetual sign. It is the only flag of all the great national emblems which floats unchallenged by suspicions of wrong unstained by suspicions of wrong, unstained by sus-

BLOODY MONEY.

In our own country we occasionally hear of tainted money— generally applied to fortunes accummulated by commercial kings. In some instances church officials have declined offers of bequests from men who have amassed princely fortunes by the operations of trusts. Blood money is also often referred to, and this generally means money received for aiding in the identification of murderers of other outlaws when prices are put upon their heads. But there is literally blood money, and such is now being placed in banks for the use of the survivor of the present great war.

It is said that there are brought almost every day to the banks in Holland French bank notes, sometimes in great quantities, and these are deposited in the Dutch banks solely for safekeeping. All of them are either stained with blood or else pierced with bullets, sometimes with what appears to be bayonet thrusts These notes are taken from the bodies of French soldiers who have fallen in battle by German soldiers. The Germans search the bodies and what disposition they may make of valuables found upon the bodies is not known, but they appear to turn in mutilated or battle scarred and stained French bank notes, and as these are not available in Germany they are sent to bonks in Holland. The French banks will not at present redeem, th these notes and they may never be paid.

BATTLE ON THE ALPS.

While Hannibal and Napoleon crossed the Alps with their armies and made themselves famous by defying nature, it has been left to the warriors of the twentieth century to engage in deadly combat upon those eminences. The Carthaginian crosser virtually unmolested, as did the French conqueror, but the latter's army did so with fear nad trembling, as they were compelled to pass over a narrow path where it was known cannon hundreds of feet above were frowning down upon them. But they ran the gauntlet with no serious mishap save suffering from exposure and general hardships.

But today Italians and Austrians are engaging in death struggles at high altitudes. Huge boulders are being rolled down upon both armies and men's bodies are disappearing in crevasses never more to reappear.

Severe fighting is reported by the rival armies on Monteparalba, which rises to a height of 8,000 feet. Alpinists of both the Austrian and Italian forces struggled fiercely and some fell over the precipice during the engagement.

DIMINUTION OF TETANUS.

The United States Public Health Service calls attention to the rapid disappearance of Fourth of July tetanus or lockjaw. While the total casualties of the day are less than a quarter of what they were five years ago the deaths from tetanus have shown a much greater reduction.

There were 417 Fourth of July victims of tetanus; in 199 the number had been reduced to 130; while from last year's celebration there were but 3. The statement of the Health Service propounds the query. Why not entirely eliminate the disease this year?

The blank cartridge wound is the great cause of Fourth of July tetanus. When driven into the tissues the wadding carries with it innumerable bacilli, and the absorption of the poisonous products given off during the growth of these organisms produce the disease.

Parents should realize that Fourth of July tetanus is easy to prevent, but extremely difficult to cure. No blank cartridge wound is too trivial to receive careful medical attention. However slight the injury may appear, summon a physician and at once adopt energetic measures.

GRUESOME CARTOON.

Such spectres may haunt the Fatherland before this dreadful clash of arms shall have ceased.

"When we cross the frontier of Italy we shall pave our way to Rome with the ruins of Italian cities, towns and villages. The cries of women and children shall be heard all over the country as a protest to the treacherous government from all the defenseless people its treachery ruined. It will be the bloodiest war in human history. We have been accused of brutality in Belgium, but eevn the lies of our enemies against us shall be surpassed by what we shall actually do in Italy. It will not be war as we have carried on war against Germany's other enedies, but a betrayed nation's merciless war of extermination against the Judas among the great powers."

NEXT YEAR'S CAMPAIGN.

Notwithstanding the fact that William Jennings Bryan laughed when he was told many persons believe he is preparing a hobby which he will mount in 1916 in order to make his fourth attempt to reach the presidential chair, politicians throughout the country are almost sure his hat will be in the ring and that the principal planks in his platform will be "Peace, Prohibition and Woman Suffrage."

Theodore Roosevelt in an interview in Atlanta said he saw a split in the democratic party which argued well for the Progressives of the country and whose banner the former President has been marching.

There is, therefore, reason to believe the country will be confronted next year with a quaternion of candidates for President.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The parliamentary election in Portugal has resulted in a large majority for the democratic party.

It is reported in El Paso, Texas, that Major General Alavaro Obregon, commanding the constitutionalist army operating against General Villa's forces in Central Mexico, died Saturday night.

In a battle on the Dniester River, in the region of Zurawna, Galicia, which lasted from June 8 to June 10, the Russians captured 348 officers and 15,431 soldiers, with 78 machine guns and 17 cannon.

"There is no sign or hint of peace in Europe," is the report which Col. E. M. House, personal representative of President Wilson, brought back to his chief on his return from a three months' stay abroad.

As You Like It, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harper Poor, at East Hampton, L. I., was the scene Saturday of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mildred Poor, to Dr. Alexander Yelverton Peyton Garnett, of Washington.

A strike of the 14,500 employes of the surface and elevated traction systems in Chicago was ordered at midnight. The men were directed to finish their runs and return their cars to the barns. The men demand an increase in wages.

Dispatches say that during a successful engagement in the valley of Oltichai, 200 cossacks charged on horseback to the trenches, where they dismounted, under heavy fire, and then put the Turks to the sword, killing more than a hundred with their Sabres.

The arsenal of the Austro-Hungarian naval Station of Pola has been almost retirely destroyed by bombs dropped from an Italian airship. There were at the time in the arsenal 10 warships, including one battleship, two cruisers nad several submarines. Some of these wessels are supposed to have been damaged.

That the resignation of William Jennings Bryan as Secretary of State forecasts a split in the Democratic party and that as a result the prospects for the Progressive party have become much brighter was the opinion expressed yesterday by former President Theodore Roosevelt, who passed through Atlanta en route for Oyster Bay after a visit to Louisiana.

The British bark Crown of India, of 2,056 tons gross, carrying a cargo of coal, and the Norweigan bark Bellglade, of 665 tons gross, timber laden, were sunk by the German submarine U-35, yesterday off Milford Haven, a seaport of Wales. The crews of the barks were rescued and landed at Milford Haven.

The French have captured the whole of Neuville, 1,000 dead Germans being left on the field, have taken a height strongly entrenched to the north of the Souchez sugar factory, and have further bent the German line to the southeast of Hebuterne by capturing three lines of the enemy's trenches in a single charge.

The bureau of labor statistics yesterday made the announcement that at a conservative estimate the number of fatal industrial accidents among American wage earners, including both sexes, every year aggregated 25,000. This is within eleven of the total number on both sides, killed, wounded, captured and missing in the battle of Antietam, said by historians to have been the bloodiest battle of the civil war.

The Pope is reported to be considering the establishment of a sacred council for the drafting of a superhuman code whereby wars may be avoided. The pontiff is praying continuously for divine enlightenment as to the position he shall assume toward the belligerents, and he believes that the best work he can accomplish is to attempt to regulate international relations through the sacred tribunal.

In a collision between the passenger steamer Bunker Hill and C. K. G. Billings' steam yacht Vanadis in a dense fog off Hunts Point, on Long Island Sound, last night, two men, George H. Kendrick, of Boston, and a member of the steamer's crew, were killed and three persons were injurd. Both vessels were badly damaged. Kendrick was killed in his stateroom.

When the United States collier Ulysses sails soon from Norfolk for Cristobal she will not have any Germans or Austrians in her crew. Nineteen Germans were discharged yesterday. It was stated unofficially that the Germans were discharged for their own protection, it being thought probable that they might have trouble with French or English subjects in the Canal Zone. The Ulysses has a cargo of coal and will pass through the canal.

"Alibi Frank," a confidence man now under conviction and recently brought back from Joliet prison to testify in police graft trials, asserted in Crimnal Court in Chicago yesterday that he had used a dog license to marry a blind woman, whose money he afterward stole. "Isn't it a fact that you got a license, framed a marriage with a blind woman, then got all her money and ran away he was asked?" "Yes, I did that trick, but only once."

A tragedy of love had its culmination in Central Park, New York, early yesterday when a young Swedish nobleman and his sweetheart died in a suicide pact. The young woman, who was identified as Miss Annie Malmquist, a member of a rich and prominent Swedish family of Brooklyn, had been shot twice in the breast, over theh eart. The man, Frederick Hussenius, a member of a noble Sweish family of Stockholm, was shot in the head.

The Riggs National Bank, of Washington, through its lawyers, former Senator Bailey and Frank J. Hogan, has prepared and filed a new brief in its suit for an injunction against Comptroller of the Currency John Skelton Williams, Secretary of the Treasury William Gibbs McAdoo and United States Treasurer, John Burke. The purpose of the document is to reply to the recent supplemental brief offered by government counsel appearing in the case for the Treasury officials.

Westmoreland Davis, of Loudoun county, for eight years president of the Virginia Farmers' Institute and a leader in agricultural development in the State yesterday announced his candicay for giving his subject to the Democratic primary in 1917. Although the campaign is two years off, there are already two candidates in the field Lieut. Gov. J. Taylor Ellyson and Attorney General John Garland Pollard District Attorney R. E. Byrd, of the western district, it is generally understood, will also be a candidate.

The Russian minister of marine yesterday gave out the following official statement: "Near the Bosphorus, on Saturday night, two Russian torpedo boats encountered the cruiser Breslau, whose searchlight discovered one of our destroyers. It at once attacked. A very violent exchange of shots occurred and it was observed aboard our vessels that several shells struck the cruiser. Several explosions were in her bow. Owing to the darkness, however, it was impossible to see how seriously the enemy was damaged. Aboard the attacking destroyer one officer and six men were wounded."

Optimism—more pronounced than it has been since the diplomatic correspondence with Germany over the sea zones of war began—was manifest yesterday in official quarters in Washington over the prospects for a peaceful outcome of the pending controversy between Germany and the United States. Officials made it clear that the note purposely had been phrased so as to reiterate the earnestness of the United States with respect to the principles of humanity and international law, and at the same time to afford Germany an opportunity with dignity to make her practice square with the principles expressed.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Norman Watkins, eleven years old, the son of Mrs. Eliza Watkins, of Richmond, was drowned in James River yesterday afternoon.

Herman Longwell, aged nineteen years, was drowned opposite the Danville Country Club yesterday when, in trying to recover an oar from his boat, he fell into the river.

Many prominent speakers are on the program for addresses during the twenty-second annual convention of the Virginia Bankers' Association, which will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week at Hotel Chamberlin, Old Point Comfort.

Dr. Calvin E. Childress, a member of this year's graduating class of the Medical College of Virginia, suffered a fracture of the skull early Saturday night in Richmond when struck in the forehead by a rock which a negro, thought to have been Allie Roane, threw at another negro.

Following the Virginia Day exercises at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, San Francisco on July 8, Governor Henry Carter Stuart, of Virginia will talk to friends in Richmond over the transcontinental telephone. It will be the first demonstration of coast-to coast telephony attempted south of Baltimore.

Rev. S. H. Templeton, pastor of the Northside Baptist Church in Richmond, says: "I attended Luther Canter while he was confined in the penitentiary prior to his execution and I was with him for nearly two hours before he was taken to the death chair Friday morning. "A few minutes before he went to the death chair he declared that he regretted his offense, and he added that the charge that James was implicated was wholly wrong. With his hand unlifted he said that he alone was responsible for the murder, and he repeated this just as he left the death corridor, telling James goodbye and shaking hands with me."

The number of sailors missing from the interned German cruisers Prinz Eitel Friedrich and Kronprinz Wilhelm, at Norfolk, is now reported to be more than twenty. Two days ago fourteen sailors were said to have disappeared. It is declared, moreover, that scarcely a week passes but what one or more of the men granted the courtesy of shore leave fails to report back to the ships. No names are given, but it is said several of those missing are petty officers. Their reasons for leaving and their destinations are unknown, although it is believed several have deserted the German ships to go to relatives in Western cities and expect to remain in America for good.

BRYAN CAN EARN $137,000

By Lecturing He Could Make That Sum in a Year

The large earning power of William J. Bryan as lecturer is not generally known by the public An estimate has been made, that by devoting his attention to the Chautauquas and lyceums the former secretary of State can earn at his present scale of prices more than $137,000 a year.

With Mr Bryan's physical strength it is possible for him to deliver three lecture a day, and he has done it on more than one tour.

Mr Bryan's terms for lecturing are as follows: He receives a guarantee of $250 for each lecture. After that amount is taken in at the gate he and the management divide the remainder equally, Mr. Bryan's share sometimes runs over $500 for a lecture, but it will average $350 for the season, it is estimated. This would give him an income of $4,200 a week or $58,800 for Chautauqua season of fourteen weeks.

During the remaining thirty eight weeks of the year it is estimated, Mr. Bryan could average six lectures a week, which would give him a gross income of $2,000 a week, or $79,800 for the thirty eight weeks, This added to the $58,800 for the Chautauqua season, would give him an income for the year of $137,800. His expenses would be small outside of the cost of traveling.

From these figures it will be seen that in leaving the post of Secretary of State with its $12,000 salary, Mr. Bryan is not making any financial sacrifices. He could rest half the year and still have an income nearly as large as that of the President.

DELICATE OPERATION

North Carolinian Has Only Two Inches of Stomach Left

Baltimore, June 14—Although he is 56 years old, Meyer Coplan, a prominent merchant of Newberry, N. C., who is a patient at the Maryuand University Hospital, is learning under the direction of a trained nurse to eat.

The reason for these lessons is that he has no stomach or at least has only a little less than two inches left of the stomach which he had when he came to Baltimore about two weeks ago.

The merchant had been suffering for years from a tumor and came here to consult Dr. J. C. Hemmeter, who is an authority on such diseases. After a diagnosis of the case the patient was turned over to Dr. Randolph Winslow for operation. It was found necessary to cut away the organ until there was only a small flap at the esophagus end. It was a problem to join this to the duodenum, a part of the small intestine.

By careful manipulation the two ends were joined together by the operating surgeon and Mr. Hemmeter. The next problem was to supply food that would be digested.

It is said that this patient is one of a half dozen who are living without a stomach. So well has he responded to the treatment that he is now able to walk about, although the operation was performed only two weeks ago. The nurse will accompany him home when he is able to leave the hospital.

How can a man live without a stomach? is the question asked. When eating a meal of some easily digested food, he must stand all the time. It is planned to allow him a spoonful of food at a time. The meal extends over nearly two hours. Quick lunches are taboode for him.
